

Broken China

The sun is setting
it's just like in a dream and it's so silent
you cannot hear a scream

Broken china
so hard to mend
broken china
like losing a friend

For I have lost it now
it just faded away
I tried to get it back a piece of yesterday

Broken china
so hard to mend
broken china
like losing a friend

We sit in silence
and watch the darkness
we wait for daybreak
with all it's madness

Broken china
so hard to mend
broken china
like losing a friend

Broken china
so hard to mend
broken china
like losing a friend
