

I want to change

I guess I play too much of silly games seems I have to go back and do it all again how did I end up in this merry-go-round I cannot even see to the end of it

I want to change
to start anew
I want my life
to be for real

I want to change
to start anew
I want my life
to be for real

Enter my dreams
look at the scenes
viewing my life
what have I learnt

Enter my dreams
look at the scenes
viewing my life
what have I learnt

Rolling the dice
skating on ice
falling again
crying in vain

I'm on my way to get another round when I'm there I hope I don't screw up again this time it better have to be for real love comes around my life much too infrequent

I was alone
I was too scared
I had to choose
I had to act

I want to change
to start anew
I want my life
to be for real

Enter my dreams
look at the scenes
what have I learnt

I knew it was wrong - I was lonely - I was scared - I guess I didn't had the courage to stand up against it - Yes, I have my own free will - It just didn't feel that way - I couldn't see the signs - I guess was blind or I was too scared to see - I didn't believe - how could I believe - I'm sorry I chickened out - I lived in darkness... </spoken>
