

Necropolis

We walk in silence
among the monuments
the angels are weeping
in the clinging rain

Howling in the night
Necropolis
nightmare town of the dead
we seek consolation

The bells are ringing from a distant tower and branches are sweeping and clearing the sky

Howling in the night
Necropolis
nightmare town of the dead
we seek consolation

Reaching for the sky
stalled angels cry
sorrow has no end here
and scars won't be mending

Withered flowers
lying there
figurines overturned
candles gone out

Ravens gather screaming out
clouds are rushing
across the sky

We're seeking shelter
but nothing can be found the wind is against us from every corner now

Howling in the night
Necropolis
nightmare town of the dead
we seek consolation

Reaching for the sky
stalled angels cry
sorrow has no end here
