

Real World

Come here and let me
touch your face
I want to know if there's a trace

A trace of sadness
a trace of madness
the real world is here
it's waiting just for you

You've been locked away for too long
you never thought you
could escape

The world of sadness
the world of madness
the real world is here
it's waiting just for you

Fear of the unknown grips your soul what lies beyond this can you survive reality shock in this bright daylight

Lost in a world, emotions hide pixels colliding prisoner of code, dreams erode such a sad existence

Through neon streets
you wander now
melancholic songs
wailing loud

The song of sadness
the song of madness
the real world is here
it's waiting just for you

The world of sadness
the world of madness
the real world is here
it's waiting just for you