

Still walking

The road we walk is dark and cold fear of dying and growing old the light in the sky's so distant the angels has left the planet

I am still walking
you are still talking
who will care to listen
I'm walking against the wind

There were times when I felt so lost there were times when I felt alone I tried to keep my head up high I tried to keep it going on

I am still walking
you are still talking
who will care to listen
I'm walking against the wind

Life is such a bumpy road twists and turnings all the way keep your focus on the prize it is hidden in disguise

I've stumbled and I've fallen down It seemed that I have lost my crown but I have always found a way and this is how it's gonna stay

I am still walking
you are still talking
who will care to listen

I am still walking,
one step at a time
I am still walking,
towards that finish line

I am still walking,
through the pain and strife
I am still walking,
towards a better life
