

Take me to the water

So you think you're in charge now and you've got it made for your own well I don't think you're smart now cause some new winds they have blown

away from the fire
get myself some fresh air with my feet back on the ground

So you think you're so clever and you've figured out how it works well we won't be forever and the mirror only shows the jerks

away from the fire
with my feet back on the ground

Time will only go forward and when looking back on the past you can see your trail, it's squirming and you thought you were moving fast
