

This is not what I've been dreaming of

I have been forsaken I've been left alone all the joy's been taken And I've turned to stone

I've come from far away searching for my goals
Do You know the lockaway where they keep the fallen souls

This is not what I've been dreaming of
This is just another silly joke
This is not what I've been searching for
This is just another cruel hoax

I don't know where to go Where to turn my sulking face Everybody's staring up to the sky as if there's a trace

This is not what I've been
dreaming of
This is just another silly joke
This is not what I've been
searching for
This is just another cruel hoax

Standing on the edge of time Loosing all my hopes moving across the boarderline we are sliding down the slopes

This is not what I've been
dreaming of
This is just another silly joke
searching for

dreaming of
This is just another wicked scam
This is not what I've been looking for
This is just another shattered plan
