

Winter In My Soul

Winter in my soul
I breathe the frozen mist time is running old I'm locked inside a fist

The wind is howling
and the night is so dark
the moon is hiding behind the grey and shredded clouds

Winter in my soul
I'm left outside again
I've been bought and sold when will it ever end

The wind is howling
the moon is hiding behind

running back and forth, a lion in it's cage feeling deaf and dumb, a mouse inside a maze

My mind is frozen and my thoughts are so weak Oh where can I take my refuge and save my soul
