

After you've been gone

After you've been gone
I've found that you're still the one you took away all the fun
Just like the clouds when they're hiding the sun

Thought that it would be so easy when I was free
You won't start over again
I know that my begging is all in vain

So, after you've been gone
I don't know what to do
Well, after you've been gone
I've found that I still love you

I'm sittin' all alone
I'm wishin' you would call
I'm starin' at the phone
oh, why don't you call

After you've been gone
I've got no place where to run
You've left me out in the rain
It felt just like a ball and a chain

Sitting in my room
I wait for the evening gloom and when the night closes in
I picture you with an awful grin

Yes, after you've been gone
I don't know what to do
Well, after you've been gone
I've found that I still love you

I'm sittin' all alone
I'm wishin' you would call
I'm starin' at the phone
oh, why don't you call
