

Breeding a Monster

Dreamy eyes and curly hair elusive smile and pretty fair feather light and innocent they thought it was heaven sent

They've been breeding a monster all along they just didn't see it come cause it had light blue eyes and fairy skin they just knew it was a sin

Nobody knows what went wrong a fairytale, an ancient song hoped the wolves would take it out they prayed the lord, help us now

they just knew it was a sin

Had to leave this one horse town It knew it just was a painted clown couldn't breathe there anymore it felt the soul was hard and sore

they just knew it was a sin

they just knew it was a sin
