a. Maiden Voyage

We're boarding
come and join us now they're sorting we're different somehow

I'm telling
don't you just get lost you're yelling
where's one we can trust

We're on a maiden voyage
we go to distant skies
we thought they'd be loyal they just wanted our goodbyes

We're sitting in a room of gloom we're waiting dinner's coming soon

They're watching
how will we react we're touching faces in the dark

they just wanted our goodbyes

b. The Captain's table

We sit and we dine
at the Captain's table
the wine is so fine it's the Captain's label

The engines are steaming under the Captain's table
my mind does the dreaming if I just would be able

We sit and we talk
my fingers will walk it's a silly fable

if I just would be able

c. The party lounge

Flashing and dashing in colors picturing dreams on the wall I look around and follow I want it all, I want it all

Party lounge,
we dance the night away
party lounge,
we talk until it's day
party lounge,
we're dreaming so silent
party lounge,
we're scheming the secret

Drinking and dancing like horses acting obscene and so violent I don't know why, vile forces I don't know who, just keep the silence

Party lounge,
party lounge,
party lounge,
party lounge,

d. The moon and the sea

The moon and the sea

are making love all night long the silver waves are gleaming and singing a song

e. The mighty waves

I lie on my bed
I turn around, I wake I'm all alone
was it all just a dream

The mighty waves
they took us apart
where are you now

You promised to me
you'd never leave again I lie alone and the sheet feels so hard

we lost it somehow
so different now

f. Where ships are coming home to die

There's no wind, there's no moon we sail the last mile alone enter the quiet zone the end will be coming soon

The lying's over, silence will prevail
and as we enter murky waters we see where ships are coming home to die

Future's gone, gone for good we thought we could fight our way shrapnel's left where we stood there's nothing more we can say

g. Maiden Voyage (reprise)

We're leaving one by one alone
faces are like stone

I'm staring can't believe it's true you're wearing that star coat of blue
