

Nightmare

Shadows are crawling slowly cross the ground and time is passing without a single sound

Fear is creeping
out along the floor and death is awaiting outside the door

This is a bad dream, this I know this is the nightmare that will show

When will I get rid of the fear when will I dare see through my tears

Waiting for sunlight
once again my friend
so we won't sit here and glance at the end

Dreams will guide us through the night of fear we're running in shadows and hide our tears

This is a bad dream, this I know
this is the nightmare that will

When will I get rid of the fear
when will I dare see through my
tears

Waiting for daybreak
in the night
screaming out loud,
I'm losing the fight
Twisting and turning,
breathing and burning
Crying and yearning,
I should be learning

Waiting for daybreak
in the night
screaming out loud,
I'm losing the fight
Twisting and turning,
breathing and burning
Crying and yearning,
I should be learning

Waiting for daybreak
in the night
screaming out loud,
I'm losing the fight
Crying and yearning,
I should be learning
