I don't know how long I've been here
I don't care what the papers say I just feel such a creeping fear they just think it's a happy day

I just got one more question now I just can't seem to find the core I guess we're losing it somehow are we hunting for evermore

Replaced
I've been replaced
replaced
I'm not here anymore

Replaced
I've been replaced
replaced
I'm not here anymore

I don't care who we celebrate I just think they should go away you keep on talking, making states I keep on walking all the way

Replaced
I've been replaced
replaced
I'm not here anymore

Replaced
I've been replaced
replaced
I'm not here anymore

What is left but the scent in the air
we knew the game
but this can't be fair

Who are you where are we You've been gone
I'm alone

I watch the signs
I watch the stars
we're going blind we don't know who we are empty space

where's my place fly away
I can't stay anymore
