

Solitaire

Sitting by the window looking at the grass outside weather doesn't matter now will it rain, it blows my mind

I don't need no company
playing solitaire again
I try not to need someone
there's no shame in being alone

Moving cards around now hope they tell my fortune keeping distance in my head looking at the place outside

I try not to need someone
there's no shame in being alone

Turn the deck, turn the deck hoping for a better hand
Turn the deck, turn the deck
hope I'm winning all the land

Play the cards, play the cards hope I won't get stuck again
Play the cards, play the cards
hope I can leave this limbo

Living in my limbo I'm repeating everything calling me a bimbo I'm playing all the while

I don't need no company
I try not to need someone
