

Standing in Line

Standing here and watching people still go rushing, so back and forth it's going nothing will be changed at all

I have fought for your love You have bought and sold me, so now I'm here and waiting for your love to be mine

Standing in line
wasting my time
people go by cursing the sky

Time is passing slowly time is counting only the heartbeat of the lonely nothing will be moved at all

I have dreamt of your love You have touched and thrown me away into the bin of waste and yesterdays love

Standing in line
wasting my time
people go by
cursing the sky

Living like a bimbo
living in a limbo,
domesticated bimbo
petrified and in distress

Dreaming in the twilight sneaking out the back way and hoping no one gets a hold of your precious love

Standing in line
wasting my time
people go by
cursing the sky

Standing in line
wasting my time
people go by
cursing the sky
