

Step by step

How did we come to this we didn't even notice and every day has slipped away we've even been killing time

Step by step
we are moving ahead
step by step
we are getting closer every day

I'm waiting in the sunset try to grasp the moment the night is sinking fast and lights are faintly twinkling

Step by step

I'm in the black dome
in the silent zone
I float around now
in unconsciousness

I'm in the waste land
time is stretched out we're shining white and blue someone meet us there

And everything's standing still the pain is just an echo the time's been dissolved to dust and humming void of darkness
