

Tell the truth

Tell the Truth, tell the truth won't you
tell the

Tell the truth
tell the truth
won't you

Truth, tell the truth won't you
tell the

Tell the truth
tell the truth

I met your eyes in a fleeting glimpse the lights was shining on your face you looked so shy, but now it seems you just were playing with your lace

You don't know how to show your feelings
You just know how to play it rude
You don't know how to do it really
why don't you just go and tell the truth

I took you to the dancing hall I wanted us to rock and roll you sure know how to twist and rock I'm feeling like a ten ton truck

You don't know how to show your feelings
You just know how to play it rude
You don't know how to do it really
why don't you just go and tell the truth

I wanna know what is on your mind you keep a secret in your heart I know that you are one of a kind I'm sure you wanna be a star

You don't know how to show your feelings
You just know how to play it rude
You don't know how to do it really
why don't you just go and tell the truth

You don't know how to show your feelings
You just know how to play it rude
You don't know how to do it really
why don't you just go and tell the truth, the truth
