

Too late

I should have thought about it I should have dared to do it now I don't have the power now I don't have the guts

Too late to start all over too late to love again
too late, we sit and stare too late, life just run by

I should have seen it coming I should have stopped the time
now I don't have the power

too late, we sit and stare
too late, life just run by

Catch up, catch up trying to catch up feeling, feeling feeling blue again

Watching, watching watching life run by trying, trying try to fly away

I should have taken chances I could have flown away
now I don't have the power
