

Visions

I try to imagine how life would be with you so I conjure a picture and make believe it's true

Visions of blue and visions of green Visions of sights that never could be seen

Visions of You and
visions of me
Visions of days that never could have been

You never came to be to the place I hold for you And so You rejected me now my life is so untrue

Visions of blue and
visions of green
Visions of sights that
never could be seen

Visions of You and
visions of me
Visions of days that
never could have been

We could have caught the bird now it flies to other skies And we could have stopped our search now we go our separate ways

Visions of blue and
visions of green
Visions of sights that
never could be seen

Visions of You and
visions of me
Visions of days that
