

You shine

How do you like the day what do you like to say silence is another way to express what you feel

Between the moments in time
between the lines of a rhyme
I know that you shine
I know that you're so divine

How do you like the view what do you like to see darkness is another way to absorb what you feel

Between the moments in time
between the lines of a rhyme
I know that you shine
I know that you're so divine

You might hide it in the thin air
I can't find it close to despair

We keep playing like falling leaves we keep saying nothing matters

How do you change the way where do you like to go flying in another time to escape what you feel

I know that you shine
I know that you're so divine

I know that you shine
I know that you're so divine
